MEDIA RELEASE

Pickles appointed to manage major receivership transport asset sale

2 February 2026: Pickles has been appointed to manage the realisation of a significant portfolio of transport assets as part of a receivership sale, reflecting pressure across Australia's road transport sector.

The sale will comprise more than 80 assets, including prime movers and trailers, with the trailer fleet spanning a mix of curtain-side and refrigerated units, which would suit medium to large-scale transport operators. The assets will be offered via a targeted digital auction campaign, reflecting current buyer demand and market conditions.

Helen Sklavos, Executive Manager, Finance & Advisory at Pickles, said the current environment is demanding greater discipline around asset presentation, timing, and buyer targeting.

"Buyers are far more selective now than they were even 12-18 months ago. Late-model, well-maintained assets continue to attract interest, while older equipment is facing sharper price correction," says Sklavos.

Pickles' strategy for the campaign will focus on clear asset segmentation and engaging the right buyer cohorts for each asset class.

"In sales such as this, transparency and preparation are critical. Our role is to ensure assets are positioned to achieve the strongest possible outcome in the current market. The sale is expected to attract interest from owner-drivers, fleet operators, and exporters," says Sklavos.

The auction will be conducted online, with assets located across Altona and Sunshine, Victoria and Acacia Ridge, Queensland. Inspections available by appointment.
